1. WELCOME MESSAGE

Welcome message of WKF President Antonio Espinos

The Mediterranean Karate Championships continue to play an important role in the development of our sport. Regional events such as this one allow athletes to compete at the highest level within their area and to gain valuable international experience. For many competitors, these championships represent opportunities that would otherwise be difficult to access. They allow athletes to measure their progress, build confidence, and take important steps in their sporting careers.

Over the years, the Mediterranean Karate Championships has grown in quality and organization. Each edition reflects the dedication of the national federations and the shared commitment to strengthening karate throughout the region. This year, the championships travel to Alexandria, in Egypt, one of the powerhouse nations of our sport.

Egypt has proven its capacity to organize world-class karate events as the country has successfully hosted Karate One competitions and, more recently, the World Championships, demonstrating a strong tradition of excellence in event organisation.

I would like to thank the Mediterranean Karate Federation and its President, Bechir Cherif, for their continued work to ensure the steady progress of this event and for their commitment to the development of karate in their area of influence. My appreciation also goes to the Egyptian Karate Federation and its President, Mohamed Mahrous Eldahrawy, for their courage and determination in hosting another first-class international competition in Egypt.

I wish all participants a successful and memorable championship in Alexandria.

Antonio Espinós
President, World Karate Federation
